New Subdivision Upsets Planners

A subdivision planned for land north of Rancho Rio Vista at the entrance to Carmel Valley aroused concern in the minds of Carmel planning commissioners yesterday afternoon.

The Monterey County Planning Commission sent the preliminary plan for the new development, Carmel Views, to the Carmel commission to review and prepare recommendations prior to a meeting of the county planners for consideration of the project.

The county group also asked the Carmel commission to send a representative to this meeting on November 24. Planning Director Floyd Adams will be the delegate.

The plan for Carmel Views was prepared for developer Russell Gallows of Carmel by the firm of Sasaki, Walker and Lacey Associates, Inc. The 210 acres to be developed are divided into 30 cluster-type areas containing 185 building sites. Lot sizes average .66 of an acre with one-half acre the minimum lot size. Sixty-six acres are designated as greenbelt.

Only access to Carmel Views is the entrance to Rancho Rio Vista off Carmel Valley Road, thence along Canada Road to a roadway looping into the development.

Mr. Adams was authorized yesterday, to inform county planners that Carmel commissioners were concerned about the fact that most of the greenbelt was in canyons behind precipitous home sites and not visible to the public, thus did not serve as greenbelt or conform to the area plan.

Another concern of the commission was that the most densely forested area of the subdivision was to be used for homes.

Thirdly, commissioners were worried about hillside scarring for roadways, also the fact that, with only one access road, Carmel Views might present fire protection problems and make reaching schools difficult.

Lastly, commissioners were perturbed that no consideration was given to the slope gradient formula developed by the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association.

Commissioner Hugh Smith stated that this formula was "intelligent" and not anywhere did Carmel Views come near qualifying with its requirements. The county should view the amount of cuts necessary to get roads "with a critical eye", Commissioner Fred Keeble advised.

Auctions And Dunes Present Problems To Carmel Planners

Carmel Planning Commissioners yesterday afternoon dealt with matters ranging from regulation of auction sales through subdivision of sand dune property to gas lights in front of the new branch of the Security National Bank in Pine Inn.

Commission Secretary Hugh Bayless reported on information received from Blowing Rock, North Carolina; Hot Springs, Arkansas; and Atlantic City, New Jersey. These communications were given to City Attorney John Morse for reference when the and Commissioners Fred Keeble, George Wilcox and Florence Joseph prepare recommendations for zoning regulations controlling auction sales in Carmel for the commission at its December meeting.

Editor's Column

In the early days of this century, the beauty of ocean beaches enclosed by rocky, cypress-crowned headlands backed by a pine forest and spreading oaks attracted persons of vision to Carmel.

By the 1920's, Carmel was becoming known nationwide for the battles fought by those persons to retain the natural beauty of the city and its surroundings.

But these residents encompassed in their vision not only the preservation of natural beauty but also the enjoyment of the arts. Because of the latter, by the 1930's, Carmel was becoming known across the country for its art, music and drama.

During the next two decades, the visions of past years truly became realities and Carmel's reputation as a cultural center was almost equal to its renown for scenic beauty.

Now, in the 1960's, Carmel is seeking to enhance its prestige in the arts by acquiring and developing a municipal cultural and community center.

It is planned that this center will embrace the Carmel Bach Festival, the Carmel Music Society and the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra which originated here.

In addition, the local chapter of the American Federation of Arts and other groups related to the visual arts hope to share the Sun-set center.

All this is being planned by people with vision.

However, so far, no group representing the dramatic arts, except a puppet organization, has evinced interest in establishing itself in the Carmel cultural center... and Carmel took the lead.

No. 82

The test of love is not first sight, nor yet discovered overnight; but, like a tree its strength is found with roots in understanding ground.

A man and woman's native blends when love has turned them into friends; whose marriage weathers passing years, and counts its days as sovereign.

No living man can be a saint, above reproach, beyond complaint; nor any woman as a wife can be an angel all her life.

So, as true friends, they live each day together — not to have their way — but understandingly contrive the other person's feelings, too.

Thus down the years must love mature, and through companionship endure; that though at times are left alone, they've found a world that's all their own.

The red letter "banquet" of the year at the Carmel Youth Center, when teen-agers of the city say "thank you" to the adult board representing welfare and service organizations, for its support and interest throughout the past year was held last night.

It was an evening for planning as well as jollification. Following the dinner, cooked in high professional style by Fire Chief Robert Smith, with the zealous assistance of Coach George Mosolf, Youth Center teen-age president Pam Baldwin bowed to Carmel Mayor Herbert Blanks; Mrs. Karen Hicks, president of the Youth Center Adult Board; Jack Giles, the center's director; P. A. McCree, charter member of the board and one of the original founders of the Youth Center; and Dr. James E. Gilman, one of the center's most enthusiastic boosters.

The coming Christmas Tree Sale, December 12-23, is the center's most important immediate project. The sale will be at the Youth Center and 800 choice trees are on order.

Members of the Youth Center will present the Carmel Christmas tree lighting ceremony on December 15, when the great tree at Junipero and Ocean will come ablaze with lights, to carolling.

Council Committee Hears Carmel Point Residents Pro And Con Annexation

Speakers opposing annexation of Carmel Point to the city outnumbered, three to one, those favoring the proposal at the public meeting in city hall on Tuesday conducted by an ad hoc committee of the city council consisting of Councilmen Eben Whittlesey and Stephen Grant.

There was standing room only in the council chambers when Mr. Whittlesey, chairman of the committee, opened the meeting held to gather information from Point residents on social and economic aspects relative to annexation.

This information will be presented in an ad hoc committee report to the city council in an endeavor to assist the council in deciding whether or not to consider annexation of the area.

Mr. Whittlesey called on proponents of annexation to speak first. Those who responded were Dr. Remsen Bird, Frank Moller and Mrs. Roy Page.

Opponents to annexation who spoke were Claude P. Kimball, co-

Carmel Planning Commission Hears Comments On Area Plan

In response to an invitation from the Carmel Planning Commission, representatives of property owners groups, also owners of large parcels of property in the city's planning area, expressed views on the Monterey Peninsula Area Plan Tuesday evening in city hall.

The meeting was an endeavor to discover information which might aid them in evaluating the differences between the area plan and the Carmel General Plan before making a recommendation on the adoption of the area plan to the city council.

Mayor General James H. Phillips (USA rep.), representing Rancho Rho Vista property owners, told commissioners his area was against taking more land off the tax rolls for parks proposed in the area plan, however, they thought the proposed Monterey Pine Park desirable, as a policy. He suggested more study should have been given to parks and indicated Palo Corona Ranch, owned by Stuyvesant Fish, also Rancho San Carlos, which belongs to the Oppenheimer family, would make beautiful and accessible parks. However, he said Rancho Rho Vista property owners were against the formation of any tax-

Teachers Of English Representing 18 Countries Here Over Week End

Sponsored by the World Affairs Council of Monterey Peninsula, a group of Fulbright grantees, international teachers of English, are paying a visit to Monterey Peninsula. This will be the seventh year such a visit has been arranged.

Based at San Francisco State College, the 36 teachers—13 ladies and 23 men—travelling by chartered bus, arrived at the Defense Language School, Presidio of Monterey, at 10:45 this morning.

The group, representing 18 different countries, ranging from South and Central America and Mexico, to Japan, Formosa, Finland, Turkey and the island of Haiti, is sponsored by the U.S. State Department. While on the Peninsula they will be the house guests of members of the local World Affairs Council.

Leonard J. Fletcher, co-ordinator of the 3-day program for the visitors, has planned highly varied entertainment.

Following greetings by officials of the Defense Language School, the guests will be entertained at luncheon in the Officers Open Mess Building.

The afternoon will be devoted to visits to classes and an informal coffee hour with DLI instructors and students acting as hosts. Afterwards the visitors will be transported to River School in Carmel where they will be met by their hostesses and taken to their various homes, for dinner and an informal evening.

Tomorrow will be devoted to tours of the Carmel Mission, with Harry Downie acting as guide; and Carmel High School, with a picnic lunch at Point Lobos State Park, included in the plans.

There will be a no host dinner at the U.S.O. tomorrow evening, which the faculties of DLI, MPC and local high schools are urged to attend. The cost to each participant will be $1.50. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Howard Dabney (375-7255), or Leonard J. Fletcher or the U.S.O. 375-4155.

Dinner will be followed by a program of their native songs and dances given by the visiting teachers.

A tour of Monterey's historic adobes, under the guidance of the Monterey History and Art Association, is scheduled for Saturday morning.

Lunch, in the restaurant of

MPC Receives Grant For Vocational Education Program

Authorization to accept $71,682 in federal funds from the Vocational Education Act was approved last week by the Monterey Peninsula College board of trustees.

These funds, which are accepted on a matching basis and will be matched out of MPC's current budget at no expense to the district, will be allocated to the three following college programs.

(1) Data Processing — $16,775 for the improvement and broadening of the program, including instructional salaries, supplies, operation of plant and maintenance of equipment. It will also provide for the rental of off-campus classrooms at Monterey and Carmel high schools, where classes are presently being conducted by the college for high school students; and for future expansion to the other Peninsula high schools.

(2) Electronics Technician Training Program—$19,907 for instructional costs, operation of the plant and equipment, and capital outlay.

(3) All-over Vocational Program—$35,000 for salaries for a coordinator of vocational programs, a director of vocational research and planning and a vocational counselor; and for the establishment of a vocational guidance library. These additions are in keeping with recommendations by the Citizens' Committee to Study MPC.

"These funds were applied for in order to give impetus to providing curricula for students who will find it necessary to compete effectively in this automated age," said Dr. George J. Faul, MPC president.

"To the best of our knowledge, the sum of $71,682 granted to MPC is one of the largest VEA grants given in the state this year."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON
"Soul and Body" is the subject at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Golden Text reads: "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?" (I Cor. 3:16).

The Lesson-Sermon concludes with these words from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear,—this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true. Thus we may establish in truth the temple or body, 'whose builder and maker is God'" (p. 428).

KENNEDY MEMORIAL SERVICE

A memorial service in honor of the late President John F. Kennedy will be held on the anniversary of his death, November 22, in front of Colton Hall, Monterey, at 3:00 p.m.

The program, arranged by Senator Fred Farr, will begin with an invocation by Monsignor Ryan. The United States Army Band from Fort Ord will then play "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Hail to the Chief." This will be followed by Max Tadlock reading excerpts from the speeches of John Kennedy; Rabbi Abraham Haselkorn reading a favorite poem of the late President's; and Dr. George Faul, president of Monterey Peninsula College, speaking on "The Significance of the Kennedy Library." The memorial service will conclude with a gun salute by members of the armed forces, a flight by a squadron from the Naval Air Facility, and a benediction by Reverend S. R. Martin.

HOEDOWN SATURDAY

The Silver Slippers Square Dance Club of Carmel Valley will hold its fourth annual hoedown on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Tularcitos School.

Bill Patterson, of Merced, will be the caller; Archie Fleming, master of ceremonies. The donation will be 75 cents per person.

Letter To Editor

November 14, 1964

Dear Editor:

What to do with the Sunset property? Leave it alone—except for necessary repairs and modifications. Don't add to the parking area. Let the young people play ball on their corner. This is the last outdoor foothold in the community for those who prefer baseball to Bach.

Consider removing the arch over the auditorium stage. Have the stage occupy the full end of the present building, open to the auditorium. Make dressing and practice rooms out of some of the buildings behind the stage. Sunset auditorium is optimum size for community use, and more important, for decent listening pleasure. It naturally won't compare with the projected 1500-seat California Festival Theatre—and won't compete. Make the best use of what we have, and schedule performances, etc. scaled to our auditorium. We're not going to lose anything but the very largest of productions.

With the California Festival Theater on the Peninsula our real need in addition to a refurbished Sunset Auditorium is a good small auditorium perhaps half the size of Sunset. Long range Peninsula-wide planning could call for a really first class base for the truly artistic presentation of a wide range of musical and dramatic presentations. We can't hope to carry out this full program in Carmel.

Do not preclude use of the auditorium for small conventions. Any other available space in the Sunset property as it now stands—after allowing for the auditorium and its attendant needs—could be used for offices for Bach Festival, Music Society, etc. City offices should be scrutinized carefully before placing them in any of the buildings.

What to do with the rest of this valuable square footage? Turn it into a city park. This is the last large piece of land in the city that can be devoted to open space. Plant a few more trees. Keep the parking as it is. Put in a few benches. Keep the city from building an enormous plant and competing with the business property owners and the myriad small shops, etc. Help the business community by keeping Carmel not as it was, but as it is. Hold the line!

The customers of the Carmel hotels and motels are being taxed to buy the Sunset property and other future community needs. This is a fair shouldering of the extra cost of tourism to the city. Our obligation to the collectors of these funds is to see that the funds are wisely used.

Volunteer assistance is valuable and necessary, but the need of a paid, dedicated, enlightened property manager seems indicated.

A pay-as-you-go plan seems the most sensible and money in the bank would seem preferable to placing upon the shoulders of a local group an obligation of large proportions. Let's spend our money as we get it. Keep the City out of big business. Keep it simple.

What simpler way to keep Carmel as it is than to set a good example by a minimum modification of the Sunset property?

Sincerely yours,
Wallace E. Doolittle
P.O. Box 444

Constance Low

Mrs. Constance Plaut Low, active in many phases of Carmel community life for the past 26 years, died on Monday afternoon, following a period of failing health.

Mrs. Low was born in New York City in 1897. With her husband, Paul H. Low, she made her home in France for a number of years, before coming to Carmel in 1938.

Mrs. Low served as a member and was past president of the Carmel Women's Democratic Club, and was an active member of the Monterey Peninsula League of Women Voters for many years.

During World War II, Mrs. Low was in charge of nurses' aides at the Community Hospital. She gave uncounted hours of service as a worker in Red Cross.

Survivors are her husband and two sons, Peter Low of New Orleans, Louisiana, and Kirby Low of Carmel; also a brother, Edward Plaut of Stamford, Connecticut; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services were held yesterday in the Mission Mortuary Chapel, with the Reverend David Hill of All Saints' Episcopal Church officiating.

Inurnment took place in Cemetery El Encinal.

Friends wishing to make contributions in memory of Mrs. Low may do so to the Monterey County Heart Association, Box 1329, Monterey.

Winter Season To Open Saturday At White Oaks Theatre

Carmel Valley's White Oaks Theatre announces the grand opening of the winter repertory company on Saturday.

The production is John Osborne's powerful drama, "Look Back In Anger" and the members of the first winter company will be under the direction of Eleanor Stoltz. Miss Stoltz was responsible for the direction of both "The Fantasticks" and "Three-Penny Opera" over two summer seasons.

When "Look Back In Anger" first arrived on Broadway, critics hailed it as "potent and compelling, filled with stinging wit and almost ferocious scorn," and of John Osborne, Walter Kerr of the New York Herald Tribune said, "John Osborne is more than the sign of his generation, he is the sound of it. He has succeeded in raising an image of actual breathing men and women. He lit a blaze on Broadway." Mr. Osborne has since gone on to create "Luther" and wrote the screenplay of "Tom Jones."

Performances during the winter were made possible by White Oaks' new theatre located on Carmel Valley Road adjacent to the Tennis Ranch. By means of the flexible audience platforms, the theatre's interior will look entirely different to those who saw Menotti's "Unicorn, Gorgon, and Manticore" with Stravinsky's "The Soldier's Tale" at the end of the summer season. And, there is no comparison to the old barn—the new theatre has heat, better seating, and no obtrusive posts.

"Look Back In Anger" will play on Saturday and Sunday evenings November 21 and 22, and will continue on Friday and Saturday evenings through January 9, excluding Christmas and New Year's weekends.

Count Marco To Speak At Republican Women's Club Annual Luncheon Meeting

Count Marco, the controversial columnist who advises women on everything, from how to win a million-dollar husband to how to get rid of "dishpan hands," will be the guest speaker at the annual luncheon meeting of the Carmel Republican Women's Club on November 30.

The speaker will be presented by the program chairman, Mrs. W. Lincoln Noelle.

Mrs. Rody Holt, the club's president, will preside at the business meeting when the nominating committee, composed of Mrs. C. A. Mitchell, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Castagna, Mrs. Lewis L. Fenton, Mrs. George Leutzing, Mrs. Ralph W. Thompson, and alternates Mrs. C. W. Fisher and Mrs. R. H. Payne, will present the slate of officers and directors for 1965.

Officers on the 1965 slate are Mrs. W. Lincoln Noelle, president; Mrs. Bryce Barnard, 1st vice-president; Mrs. Kenneth MacPherson, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. Steven Sassoon, recording secretary; Mrs. E. C. Cronwall Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. L. Hughes, membership secretary; and Mrs. Jory Crain, treasurer.

Directors: Mrs. Rody Holt, Mrs. Thomas McCullough, Mrs. C. T. Anderson, Mrs. Fred Capen, Mrs. John Phillips and Mrs. Richard Spencer.

The nominating committee for 1965: Mrs. H. V. Alward, Mrs. C. A. Mitchell, Mrs. Mark Raggett, Mrs. Jack Stein Jr., and Mrs. Mark Thomas.

The luncheon meeting will be held at Highlands Inn, commencing promptly at 12:30 noon. Reservations must be made by November 25 with Mrs. C. A. Mitchell by telephoning 624-6116 before 10 a.m.; or Mrs. R. H. Payne (624-2142).

Members in need of transportation may call Mrs. Harry Crean (624-4161).

Planning Commission Hears Comments On Area Plan

He observed, though, that the area plan had awakened large landowners and made them realize "they have to do something."

Allman J. Cook, owner of Carmel River Inn, queried Gordon Hall, planning consultant to the area planning commission, about the designation of his property bordering Carmel River, which in the area plan is part of proposed Junipero Serra Park.

He stated that under present county zoning he could place 170 units on his three acres, but proposed to confine development to 50-60 units. "It would be difficult to give the land away. It has a value of $50,000 an acre," he concluded.

Mr. Cook was assured, however, that his property was only included in a park concept.

"We have to show something on a map," Mr. Hall explained and stressed the importance of preserving the river area.

Mrs. Isabel Tostevin, president of the Carmel Business Association, voiced the organization's concern over the fact, that since 1959, much greenbelt and park designation in the Carmel plan was no longer available.

She added that the business association had helped sponsor the area plan and was deeply interested in it and would actively work to achieve the planning goals of both plans.

James Pruitt ascertained from Mr. Hall that large property owners had been consulted about the designation of their land in the area plan. Mr. Hall stated that he and Keith Evans, chairman of the area planning commission, had gone to many meetings of property owners groups, also consulted with Stuyvesant Fish, S.F.B. Morse, the Odello brothers and members of the Hatton family.

Supervisor Thomson J. Hudson, as a private individual representing the A. M. Allan family, of which he is a member, also the Odello family, as a friend, praised the work which resulted in the area plan.

It had brought large property owners to the sudden realization of the significance of planning, and to form the Monterey County Planning and Conservation Council, he observed.

The area plan was the impetus, he stressed, for "magnificent planning" by council members affected by the area plan. A study is now at the midway point and will, when completed, provide greenbelt and open space which will "enhance the area plan and be significant enough to gain national attention," he said.

Mr. Hudson also stressed the value of dedications already made by S.F.B. Morse for Del Monte Properties holdings, also Dudley Swim on Druid Hills ranch in Carmel Valley. These provide local greenbelt.

He alerted those present to the devastation to forested areas in Hatton Canyon which will occur if the state's freeway plans in this area are not altered.

"This is the Number One problem facing us tonight," he declared.

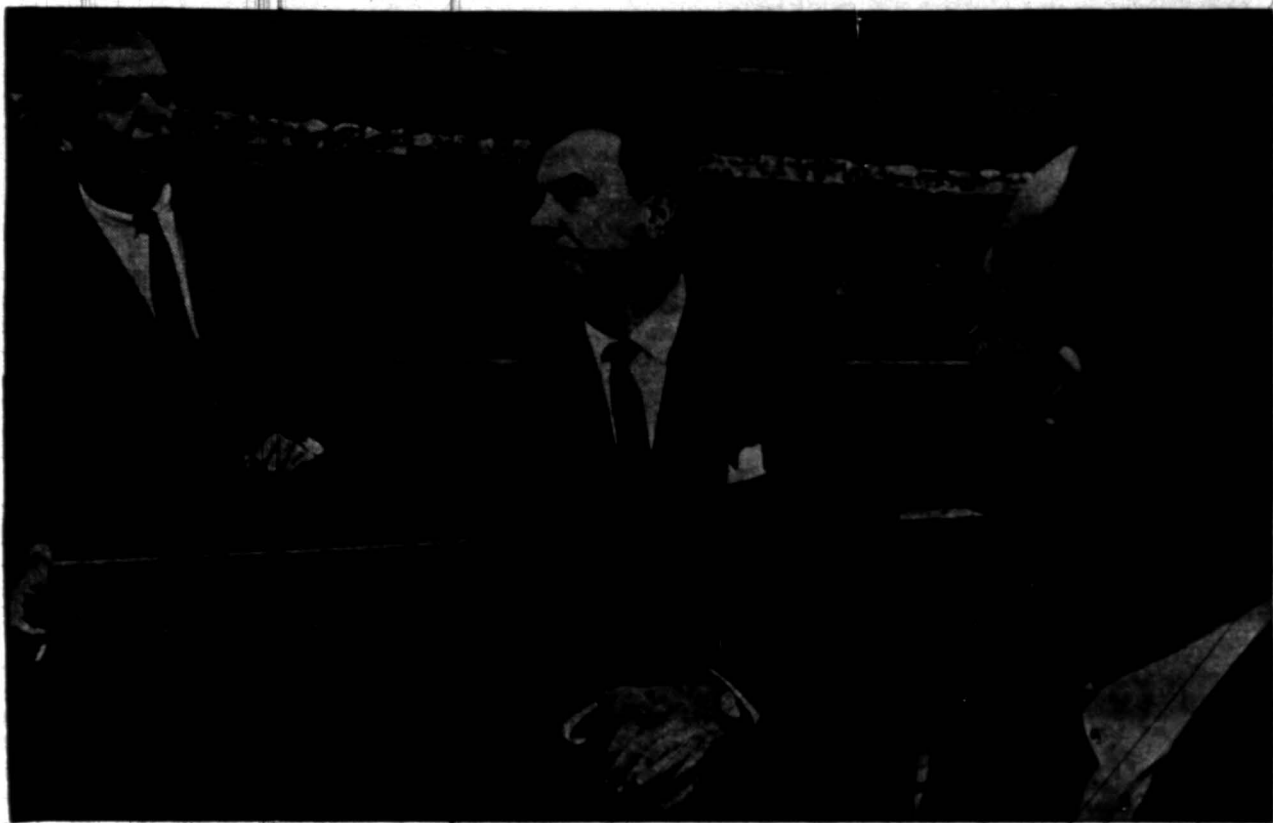

Mrs. Charlotte Clark, member of the area planning commission core committee, made a plea for the retention of natural recreation parks in the area plan to preserve the Peninsula skyline and provide wild areas for hiking and local family recreation.

Bion Burchell, president of the Carmel Board of Realtors, presented the need for balance between developed areas and open space.

Land values in this area had gone up because of open space but, if the hills are developed, land will lose its value, he predicted. He advocated land being preserved but still used.

William Hazell, chairman of the Carmel Highlands Association, said cluster zoning was now too flexible and urged that the public be given the protection of a zoning minimum in this type of development.

Mr. Pruitt then spoke again to

Festival Theatre Foundation Of California

Last week, Douglas Campbell, center, artistic consultant to the Festival Theatre Foundation of California, came here to talk to directors of the organization and various groups on the Peninsula and in Salinas, also members of the California Art Commission.

Seated at left is Howard Brunn of Carmel, a vice-president of the non-profit festival theatre foundation. At right is Fred Rider, of Carmel, a director and one of the originators of the project.

Mr. Campbell is also a director and starring actor in the Stratford Shakespearean Festival in Canada and assistant artistic director of the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre in Minneapolis.

Gordon Hall is president of the non-profit festival theatre corporation. The directors, all Peninsula residents, in addition to Mr. Hall, Mr. Brunn and Mr. Rider, are Dr. James D. Niebel, Mrs. Charles E. Simpson, John A. Harrison, the Reverend David Hill, Sam Karas, Charles O'Gara, Richard Osborne, Mark Thomas and Nick Zanides.

The goal of the group is an annual festival of great plays on the Monterey Peninsula; productions to range through Greek drama, Shakespeare, Shaw and famous contemporary plays.

A resident, professional acting company of the highest calibre is planned with world-renowned actors as guest stars. Directors from the great repertory theatres of England and this continent working with the festival theatre company is another aim of the group.

The plays, the foundation announces, will be presented in a 1,500-seat open-stage auditorium built on donated land in Monterey.

Costs of establishing the festival theatre are estimated at $2,900,000. This sum is broken down as follows: organization, $200,000; construction, $2,000,000; underwriting (three seasons), $300,000; company tours and training (two years), $400,000.

Directors of the foundation hope point out the importance of controls along the Carmel River in the Carmel area in relation to pollution problems.

Carmel Planning Commissioner George Wilcox observed that planning accomplished its purpose when it aroused people to the need for discovering a solution for preserving areas. Tuesday night's meeting was an example of this aim, he concluded.

to raise the above funds from private donors, industries and foundations in all parts of the Western United States and beyond.

They estimate that the festival theatre will attract an annual attendance of 175,000 persons and bring in revenue amounting to $700,000 a year.

The immediate needs of the organization total $80,400. This sum will be used for organizational expenses ($29,000); theatre consultants ($3,900); brochure ($4,500); theatre model ($3,000); architectural and engineering costs of a preliminary building design ($40,000).

Tax deductible memberships in the festival theatre foundation are suggested as one means of raising the funds necessary for the venture. These are as follows: members, $100-$1,000; patrons, $1,000-$10,000; benefactors, $10,000 or more.

If the festival theatre is to be established, local persons, organizations and businesses must provide the initial funds required to get the project started, then foundations, also the state, will be assured of the desire for the theatre and consider additional financial support, Mr. Campbell emphasized in his talks to local groups last week.

Win Domino Tournament

With a complete sell-out of tickets, and voted champion fun by all who attended, the Monterey County Symphony Guild's Fashion Show Luncheon and Domino Contest, held on Saturday, attracted many visitors from San Francisco and the upper Peninsula, as well as those from all parts of Monterey County.

The Domino Contest, a "first" in this area, was carried on by 34 teams. Winners of the prizes were W. E. Lowejoy and J. S. Sheppard of San Francisco, first prize; Mrs. Robert Littler of San Mateo and Mrs. Robert Renker of Menlo Park, second prize; and Hartford Rapp Jr., of San Francisco and Nate Bower of Piedmont, third prize.

Mrs. Reid Freeman of Carmel held the lucky number for the first door prize, a piano; and Mrs. Lorene Phillips of Salinas, as second door prize winner, was presented with a dozen pairs of nylon hose.

Amusing, with its sad side, Mrs. Littler and Mrs. Renker were guests at the Gardiner Tennis Ranch on Friday night. Both ladies declared that they knew practically nothing about dominos. Mrs. John Gardiner and Mrs. C. J. Cashin of Atherton, also a ranch guest, by way of being experienced players, coached the two novices late into the night. As recorded, Mrs. Littler and Mrs. Ren-ker carried off second prize. Mrs. Gardiner and Mrs. Cashin came in a sad and sorry last.

The fashion show featured Mrs. Robert Stanton as commentator and Mrs. Bing (Kathy) Crosby as star model. The 25 volunteer models donned 96 different fashions. Mrs. Crosby graciously modelled six John Louis originals especially designed for her.

To Present Concert

Miss Dorothy Goudge, vocal teacher and coach, also head of Carmel's Goudge Studio of Music, will present mezzo soprano Rosemary Rodriguez of Salinas, tenor Arthur McMillan of Carmel and pianist Robert Rabano in concert at the U.S.O. on Monday evening.

Miss Goudge, who will act as accompanist for the vocalists, studied in London where she received her degrees in music at the Royal Academy of Music.

Myricks Have Grandchild

A telephone call from Norfolk, Virginia, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Myrick from their son, Bill, announced the birth of their first grandchild, Wanda Jean, born November third, the second anniversary of her parents' wedding day.

Bill, now a Data Systems Technician, 1st class, Electronics Division, Atlantic Fleet Operations Control Center, USN, graduated from Carmel High School in 1958. He and the former Wilma Jean Brown of Anaconda, Montana, were married November 3, 1962.

Wanda Jean was born in the U.S. Naval Hospital at Portsmouth, Virginia.

Life Diploma

The Monterey County Board of Education, last week, granted a life-time elementary teaching diploma to John P. McCormack of Carmel.

In College Choir

James B. Pruitt Jr. is a member of the 64-voice a cappella choir at the University of Texas and sang with the choir on Sunday at the opening concert of the annual fine arts festival of the university. The UT symphonic band also performed on this occasion.

Jim's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James B. Pruitt of Carmel. He is a graduate of Carmel schools, also of Monterey Peninsula College.

Birthday Dinner

Carmel Police Sergeant and Mrs. Bob Fischer entertained at dinner on Saturday evening in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Fischer's sister, Mrs. Toland Doud.

Enjoying the champagne cocktail hour that preceded the festive turkey dinner were Mrs. Doud's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Dowgiallo; Dr. Doud and the three Doud children, Lindy, Laurie and Marion, also the three daughters of the host and hostess, Diane, Cathy and Gail.

Admiral Fisher Wed

Mrs. E. J. Murray of Hatton Fields Mesa and Rear Admiral Charles Willis Fisher (USN Ret.) of Carmel were married on November 14 in the Pasadena Episcopal Church. At the end of this month they will return here and plan to live in Mrs. Fisher's home at Taylor and Atherton streets.

Admiral Fisher is president of the Carmel Citizens Committee and chairman of the structures sub-committee of the Sunset Committee, also one of the leaders of this community active in the preservation of the residential character of Carmel.

Mrs. Fisher also is a civic leader. She has worked with the Republican Committee, the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services, the Auxiliary of the Community Hospital of the Monterey Peninsula and as a member of the board of directors of the Visiting Nurse Association.

Steamboat Springs Summer

With the 51st season of their unique camp at Steamboat Springs, Colorado, completed, the Misses Charlotte Perry and Portia Mansfield have returned to their home on Casanova Street for the winter months.

During the two months encampment in the Colorado mountains, teen-age students, beginners, advanced students, actors, actresses and professional dancers are given concentrated training in the theatre arts and dancing, as well as horsemanship and swimming. During the summer of '64 young students registered from 13 different states.

Mrs. Annette Thorn with her daughter Annette, a student at Santa Catalina School for Girls, also her young son, Jamie, were registered at the camp this year for two summer semesters.

Immediately after the camp's closing, Miss Mansfield flew to New York, and then to London, where she devoted her major interest to theatre. Especially fine were the Laurence Olivier performance of Othello at London's new National Theatre, built on the site of the Old Vic, and the performance of modern classics by the Stratford-on-Avon players at the Aldwych Theatre. The presentation of Marat-Sade was "superb as it was harrowing," she reported.

Miss Perry, who is again teaching dramatics at Santa Catalina School, is, with Miss Mansfield, an ardent supporter of the drive for a Festival Theatre on the Monterey Peninsula.

L. J. Fletcher Heads Community Church Officers For 1965

The yearend membership meeting of the Peninsula Community Church was held on November 12 at the Carmel Woman's Club. The occasion was also a first birthday anniversary dinner and business meeting.

Dinner places were set for 175 members and friends. Since November 12 marked their 50th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Shelley Schoonover of Monterey were guests of honor, being ushered into dinner to the tune of the Anniversary Waltz. Ceremony of cutting the church birthday cake was presided over by Mrs. Dudley Swirn. Each member sang the Happy Birthday song to every other member.

The business meeting following dinner was devoted to formal announcement of the appointment of the Reverend Burkert Cree as permanent minister, also election of officers and department directors for 1965; approval of the budget for 1965; amending the church by-laws to create a separate department of public relations; and discussion of board of governors resolutions.

Officers elected were — president, L. J. Fletcher; vice president, Dr. Ernest Gatcombe; treasurer, A. G. Mott; secretary, Mrs. Walter Burde.

Department directors elected were — worship services, Dr. Charles Pearson; religious education, Dr. Zoltan Vasvary; fellowship, Mrs. Alfred Elkinton; missions, Mrs. Mark Brislawn; property stewardship, Colonel Arthur Black; finance, A. G. Mott; membership, James Pruitt; public relations, Charles McDaniel; member at large for the board of governors, Leo Miller.

The minister and his family arrived in Carmel on Wednesday and were greeted by a committee of the fellowship department. Mr. Cree will occupy the pulpit at worship services on November 22.

MPC Bond Election Set For February 16

February 16, 1965, was set as the date for a bond issue election for facilities for Monterey Peninsula College at last Thursday's meeting of the MPC board of trustees. Charles E. Simpson, Monterey's former chief of police, was announced as chairman of the citizens' committee for the election.

The precise amount of the bond issue was not announced. It will be set this month following additional study sessions by the board.

In accepting the citizens' committee chairmanship, Simpson stated:

"Having been a member of the citizens' committee that originally explored the feasibility of the establishment of MPC, I have always been interested in its progress.

"I feel the committees which have been studying the present needs of the college have made a sound analysis which the board has translated into a realistic bond issue I can support conscientiously — not only in terms of fulfillment of need, but also in terms of taxpayer economy."

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

Pictured above is an unusual group, the Afro-American Folkloric Troupe of San Francisco, which will appear at Nepenthe, Big Sur, tomorrow evening at 8:30 p.m.

Their program will revive memories of the writings of Negro poets and folklorists in an original and entertaining manner employing dramatic techniques.

Members of the troupe are Mark Primus, Stella Beck, Norman Jacob and Charles Columbus Thomas. Owen James is musical director.

They will include a suite by Poet Langston Hughes who has spent much time in Carmel.

A donation of $1.50 will be requested to support the Nepenthe Concert Series.

MONTEREY COUNTY SIXTH IN INCOME

The average annual adjusted gross income of Californians was $9,061 according to taxable income returns filed during 1963, State Controller Alan Cranston reports.

Monterey County residents, for the sixth consecutive year, reported the highest average personal income figure, $10,770. In second and third places were San Mateo County and Santa Barbara County with $10,233 and $9,952 respectively. Monterey County tied with Ventura County for seventh place with an average personal income of $9,203. Ahead of Monterey were Orange, Santa Clara and Los Angeles counties.

Second Wildlife Audubon Film At Sunset Tuesday

On Tuesday at 8 p.m., Earl L. Hilfiker personally will present the Audubon wildlife film "Wildlife of the Eastern Woodlands" in Sunset School auditorium.

As human population increases, so does the need for wild areas. Earl Hilfiker of Rochester, New York, has produced a dramatic color film to illustrate this principle. Highlighted, in a production marked by striking close-up photography, is the beaver, aptly depicted as an engineer in a fur coat, along with migrating waterfowl and many varieties of amphibians and mammals attracted by the beaver pond.

Mr. Hilfiker grew up in what he refers to as the "crossroads community" of Parma Corners, outside of Rochester which is his home today. His father's mill pond was Earl's playground, and while other youngsters were playing "one o' cat," Earl was becoming familiar with the many forms of wildlife in and around that pond.

As a student at the University of Rochester, he majored in biology. He graduated in 1927, and entered the teaching profession for a period of 12 and one-half years. He worked as assistant curator at the Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences and has served as a motion picture photographer for the State of New York Conservation Department, also appeared on many of the large travel and adventure lecture circuits.

This is the second in the current wildlife film series presented by the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society and the Carmel Unified School District.

ZANGS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph F. Zang, who, for the past few years have divided their time between European travel and their home in Hawaii, are currently visiting their daughter, Mrs. Annette Thorn, who is living in her parents' former home at Scenic Drive and Valley Way.

Mr. and Mrs. Zang, who are enjoying their two grandchildren, Annette and Jamie, and also renewing old friendships in Carmel, will be here through the Christmas holidays, then go to Hawaii for the balance of the winter.

VCB GOVERNORS

Elected to the board of governors of the visitors and convention bureau of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce recently were Ken Brown, Robert Little and William Sefton. They represent Carmel motels on the board. Mr. Sefton is also a vice chairman of the VCB executive council.

THE BRANSON FAMILY RECOVERING

Returning home last week from teaching a primary class at the Mormon Church in Pacific Grove, Mrs. Edward Branson, Jr. and her four children were involved in an automobile accident on Highway One, a short distance from their home in Big Sur. During the heavy rainstorm, the car went off the paving into the soft shoulder of the road. When Mrs. Branson tried to return to the pavement, the car went into a skid and crashed into an embankment. Although later the car was declared a total loss, at the time Mrs. Branson was able to free herself and summon aid from a passing motorist. Mr. Branson arrived at the scene within a very few minutes.

Mrs. Branson was in the hospital for several days but is now home and progressing very well. The eldest son, Aaron, a pupil at Captain Cooper School, remains in Monterey Peninsula Hospital, and although he is improving steadily, he may not return home for some time.

The Bransons are well-known in Big Sur. Mrs. Branson, Maryellen, as she is fondly called by her many friends, is vice-president of the Parents Club of the Captain Cooper School, teaches two days a week in the club-sponsored kindergarten for pre-school-age children, takes part in grange activities, is an active worker in her church and maintains a lovely home for the six Bransons in its beautiful setting on the El Sur Ranch.

Edward Branson, while not occupied with the demanding work of the sprawling cattle ranch, is busily engaged in pursuing his talent of wood carving. Artist Branson has recently completed a number of commissions and is presently working on a group of three mammals and birds, forming them from handsomely grained redwood burls. A family group of an Indian man, woman and child, carved of aged redwood, is currently on display at the Big Sur Bazaar.

CLARABUT FAMILY MOVING

Noel Clarabut, a member of the California State Highway Patrol who has been stationed in the Big Sur area for the past five years, is being transferred to a new assignment at Point Arena, along the Mendocino County coast. Patrolman Clarabut will begin his work in the northern California community on December 2.

Susan and Noel Clarabut have taken an active and interested part in the affairs of the community. Their son, Nicki, is a student at Carmel Junior High School, and Tony, Suzanne and Lisa are all enrolled at Captain Cooper School.

Many are the expressions of appreciation for the exceptionally fine service that Noel Clarabut has rendered to the immediate community of Big Sur and to the entire area from Rocky Point south to Pacific Valley which has come under his jurisdiction.

LOPEZ FAMILY REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Lopez and daughter, Rosita, look forward to the happy possibility that one, or more of the Lopez' boys will be home for the holiday season.

Twins, Juan and Julian, will probably be home by Christmas, but Miguel is not certain if he will have a "pass" to return to Big Sur. Miguel is a chief petty officer, serving with the U.S. Navy and stationed at Pearl Harbor. When not on duty at the Pacific station, he is active either with the football team, the bowling league, the surfing team or helping with Boy Scout work. Juan was drafted into the Army this past summer and is now in school at Fort McClelland, Alabama. Julian is somewhat nearer home. After enlistment in the U.S. Air Force eight months ago, Julian attended an Air Force mechanics school in Illinois and is now stationed at March Air Force Base in Riverside.

The Lopez family live on the 600-acre Rancho Grande ranch in Big Sur. Big Sur has been their home for the past 20 years. Each of the children had the happy experience of attending school in the little red schoolhouse that was razed recently. Before entering the military services, Juan and Miguel were both members of the United States Forest Service in Big Sur. Julian was a mechanic at the Big Sur garage.

MULTI LEVEL LEARNING

Dr. Don H. Parker, author, lecturer and consultant of multilevel curriculum planning, recently presented Captain Cooper School with a gift of his "Learning in Science Laboratory" and a "Pilot Library." Dr. and Mrs. Parker have spent many hours at the school instructing the teachers, Mrs. Rowena Kelly, Lynn Cadwell and George Selvig, in the use of this specialized method of education. The Parkers believe the community elementary school "is so deserving that we just wanted to help them." In May of this year, Dr. and Mrs. Parker moved from their home in Evanston, Illinois, to their new home in the Coastlands, Big Sur, which they have named "Em-limar."

PATTERSON PROPERTY SOLD

Steve Patterson has recently sold his 24-acre property and home, situated along the Big Sur

River, at River Village, to Jan Brewer of Gorda. In relating the change of ownership, Mr. Patterson informs us that the new owner has long-range plans to develop and improve the large property. About December 1 Steve Patterson will move to Monterey, where he hopes to open an art studio sometime next year. Mr. Patterson has long been a resident of the Monterey Peninsula area. The Patterson Building in Carmel was built by and named for this widely known member of the community, who operated a restaurant in Carmel for many years.

NEWS OF THE MOES

Good news comes from Marilyn and "Bick" Moe. Mr. Moe was foreman of the Big Sur maintenance station of the State Division of Highways until his transfer last year to another station. During their residence in the community, the Moe family took an active part in community affairs. Presently they are living in Shandon, where Mr. Moe is foreman of the Division of Highways maintenance station in that area. Shandon is 15 miles east of Paso Robles, situated in a warm, gently rolling hill country. The Moe home is directly across the street from a county park, which has much appreciated recreational facilities, including a swimming pool. Marilyn Moe is organist of the community church and has joined a singing group which gives performances in neighboring towns. The whole family is well and happy and each is making new friends in their new home town.

MODERN DANCE CLASSES

Mrs. George Selvig is giving modern dance classes every Monday from now until Christmas at the Big Sur Grange Hall. Twelve women are enrolled in the group. Lilli Selvig, as Mrs. Selvig is known professionally, is a former member of the Royal Danish Ballet and travelled extensively throughout Europe with that company. She regularly teaches ballet classes to young children in the community.

Visitor Industry Training Program Instituted By MPC

"Point of Sale," a "pilot" series of five classes for the hotel and restaurant industry, was approved last week by the Monterey Peninsula College board of trustees.

The probable forerunner of a complete off-campus hotel/motel/restaurant management program to be sponsored by the college opened Wednesday at Casa Munras. Other weekly sessions will be at Hotel San Carlos, La Playa Hotel, Gallatin's and Mark Thomas Inn.

The first "refresher-trainer" classes, numbering about 20 students, will include experienced waitresses and waiters from a pilot group of Peninsula restaurants and hotels. Members of the MPC Hotel/Motel/Restaurant Advisory Committee will also participate as observers.

The goal of the program, according to MPC Technical-Vocational Dean Charles Mulkey, is improvement of service in the Peninsula's restaurants and hotel dining rooms. All waiters and waitresses who complete the course will be given a dinner for four at one of the participating restaurants.

Four of the lectures will be given by Philip Rauscher, manager of San Francisco's International Inn Restaurant, general manager for Gene Compton's cafeterias and a graduate of the San Francisco City College restaurant management program.

A session on wine serving will be conducted by Don Bonhaus, field staff director, Wine Advisory Board, and Warren Higgins.

Former Carmelite Author Of Book About Arthritis

"My Fight With Arthritis," the dramatic story of a battle with an ancient, baffling disease, recently published by Random House, is the work of a former resident of Carmel.

The author, who writes under the name of Faith Perkins, was known to friends here as Peggy Bramer. She retains her maiden name for professional use. Mrs. Bramer is the author of other books and of numerous magazine articles and fiction. In San Francisco, where she now lives, she has been an advertising writer, newspaper columnist, lecturer in adult education and has written and broadcast a radio show.

When her activities were curtailed and her career brought to a halt by severe arthritis she began her battle with the disease by moving to the desert near Palm Springs where "My Fight With Arthritis," was written. The book deals not only with her own struggle but relates numerous other case histories covering many types of arthritis. The author also presents much scientific data concerning the status of research and present methods of treatment which was gathered from interviews with many doctors specializing in this field.

She also gives a long, cold look at the quack cures which cause arthritis victims—made gullible by pain—to spend a needless quarter billion dollars a year. The author testified regarding these kinds of fraud before a U.S. Senate subcommittee and the dust jacket of the book carries words of praise quoted from Senators Neuberger and Williams, who directed the hearings.

"My Fight With Arthritis," has been praised by doctors in the field as giving a realistic but not despairing picture of what faces arthritis patients and how much of their condition and progress is within their own control. Although only out a few weeks, the book has gone into a second printing.

Mrs. Bramer is the mother of two sons who were born while she and her husband, from whom she is divorced, lived in Carmel. They are William, now married and living in Arizona, and Baird who lives in San Francisco. She is currently at work on a novel concerned with Americans living at a health resort in Mexico.

FUN IN THE SNOW PLANS

Plans are already underway for Mrs. Bob Fischer's annual ski party at Tahoe. This will be the twelfth party for teen-agers that Marion has hosted, the first several being when she was a teenager herself.

Bubbling with excitement and looking forward to the week of December 27 to January 3 are Kit and Joan Snow, Diana Ireland, Sue Snow, Cathy Bingham, Linda Carstenson, Cindy Pilot, Diana Fischer and Kathy and Gail Fischer. Skiing, ice skating, and the building of snowmen, with snowball "fights" are ahead. Hootenannies, candy pulls and square dancing after dark are all part of the fun program.

The group has rented the Wachter house on the south shore of Tahoe for the fun week.

A chilly room is nothing to sneeze at—get an electric heater

Got a room where you can feel the cold coming on? Warm up that drafty room, or the new room you've just added, with an electric heater. You can install one for a minimum of expense. And there are many different kinds of electric heaters. There are wall inserts, floor inserts, baseboard and 240 volt portable models . . . each model having its own room control. ## Party For Players

While last week's grey and weeping skies probably went unnoticed by London-born Douglas Campbell, here for four days of intensive consultation with trustees of the California Festival Theatre Foundation, the work being delightfully interrupted with parties and receptions, Carmelites defied the elements, rain-coated, to attend festivities in Mr. Campbell's honor.

On Thursday night, it poured rain. Nevertheless, local little theatre actors, actresses, directors and technicians bowed gaily along, up Carmel Valley, to the home of Nick and Rosamund Zanides for the cast party that continued through the wee small hours of Friday morning.

Talking theatre, in all its intriguing phases were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Alastair MacKay, Derek Lawford, Richard Vreel, R. Rolleston West, Gunnar Norberg, Edgar Bissanz, John Boles, Hugh Hannon, Winston Elstob, Norton Goldman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strathmeyer, Victor Velissaratos, A. J. Carlson, Brian Jarman, Douglas Chandler, Allan Weinfield, Richard Bird, Irving Rogers and Fred Roberts.

Other guests were the Misses Stephanie Szold, Beatrice Pepper, Anne Flynn, Sally Reichard and Penelope Nesbitt, also Mrs. Sarah Ector, Mrs. Annette Thorn, Mrs. Ruth Warshawsky, Mrs. Babs Richardson, Mrs. Loel Shuler, Mrs. Margaret Phillips and Mrs. Gertrude Chappell, Cole Weston, Ralph Geddis Francois Martin, Herbert Heron, William Lewis, George Thompson, Terry Poland, Keith Decker, Jerry Zellhoefer and Brian Casiday also were guests.

Members of the board of directors of the Festival Theatre Foundation of California, who attended the party with their wives, were Frederick Rider, Sam Karas, John Harrison and president of the board of trustees, Gordon Hall.

Town House Programs

The discussion group of the Carmel Foundation will debate the merits of "The Rich and the Poor Nations," Barbara Ward's much talked of book, on Sunday afternoon at the Town House. Following the debate, from 2 to 4 o'clock, tea will be served. All interested persons are invited to attend.

On Monday, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Mrs. Keith Messent will give instructions on Christmas wreath creation and design. Those attending are requested to bring their own lunch.

There will not be any program on Wednesday.

Thanksgiving dinner will be served at 1 p.m. on Thursday for members and their friends. Reservations may be made at the Town House office.

Altar Society Meeting

Mrs. Elsie Martinez, a charter member of the Carmel Mission Basilica Altar Society, and a resident of Carmel for the past 27 years, was guest speaker at the society's November meeting which was held on Monday, in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Campbell. Assisting Mrs. Campbell as co-hostesses were Mrs. John Frey, Mrs. Mae Koch and Mrs. Alvin Ferrera.

Plans were made for the Christmas meeting, to be held December 10, in the home of Mrs. Francis J. Sparolini.

St. Dunstan's Bazaar

St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church, Carmel Valley, will hold its Christmas Bazaar on Saturday, in the Carmel Valley Community Center, featuring unusual gifts for the entire family. The doors will be open from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., with luncheon to be served, 11:30 to 1:30 o'clock.

Travel To Palo Alto

Mrs. Walter Tittle and Mrs. Jean McGill drove to Palo Alto on Tuesday to hear political columnist and author Peter Howard, current head of the world program for Moral Re-armament, address a capacity audience in Dinkelspiel Hall.

Mr. Howard is touring 41 major college and university campuses. Tuesday afternoon's address was his first at Stanford University.

Also traveling from Carmel, to hear the speaker, was W. Edgar Galloway.

Leaves For London

On Monday Brooks Clement will leave for London to make final preparations for the African safari to observe animals on which he and Sculptor Emile Norman will go this winter.

Mr. Norman will depart from here on December 21 to join Mr. Clement in London. After spending Christmas with friends in England, they will leave on December 28 for Africa.

Board Of Realtors Installs Officers

The beautiful new Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club was the scene of a highly successful dinner party last night when members of the Carmel Board of Realtors and their guests, totalling close to 150 persons, met to celebrate the installation of officers for the coming year.

The announcement that Bion W. Burchell was elected for his second term as president of the organization met with resounding applause.

George Conn was named vice-president and Jack Martin, treasurer. Both Conn and Martin are also serving second terms. Miss May Youngberg was elected secretary.

New directors on the board are Skip Marquard and Charles McEwen. Continuing to serve on the board are Lois Renk, William A. Farner, and George Conn.

Mrs. Thiel Hampton, vice-president of the California Real Estate Association, Tenth District, and a member of the Paul Verga Real Estate Company, Monterey, acted as installation officer.

Three title companies hosted the cocktail party in honor of the realtors preceding the dinner. Toasting the Carmel Board of Realtors and their friends were officers and members of the Western Title Guarantee Company; the Coast Counties Land Title Company; and the Title Insurance and Trust Company.

As a return gesture of hospitality, four members of each of the three title companies were guests of the realtors at dinner.

Edgar Haber, president of Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club, seemed to be everywhere at once. While there were no formal tours of the new club house, Ed saw to it that the guests saw the "beauty spots."

Council Committee Hears Point Residents Annexation Pro - Con

(Continued From Page One) lation growth in California might bring in outsiders who would not want Carmel the way it is.

"I would like to have a vote soon," she concluded.

Mr. Kimball indicated that at no time was the sentiment of Point residents sought before permission to circulate annexation petitions was requested of the city council by 13 Carmel Point residents in September.

He said that letters sent by his group requesting a yes or no answer on annexation had resulted in 160 negative replies and eight favorable ones.

Mr. Arnot said Carmel Point was an area of homes and not like Carmel. Joining the city would not protect this situation but destroy it, he declared. Taxes paid by the residents of his area provided all the services needed. Annexation proposals had caused and will cause a "waste of community effort," he also stated.

"All benefits of annexation seem to favor the city with costs passed on to the outside areas. This is no way to run a railroad," he concluded.

Dr. Aurner pointed out that services provided by annexation, such as a building inspector, fire and police protection and a street department, were provided by the county to Point residents.

Overwhelming opposition to annexation had been expressed by Point residents and it was "futile and purposeless to continue procedure," was his opinion.

Dr. Aurner also objected to the fact that registered voters, not property owners, would decide the annexation question if it came to the polls. The latter "will resist being forced to have a 20 percent raise in taxes," he stressed.

Mrs. Elsie Martinez, who first came here in 1907, and who with her artist husband, the late Xavier Martinez, was one of the members of the early-days art colony, deplored the motels and fashionable shops now in Carmel.

"Carmel Point is unique. Residents are artists, educators, poets, businessmen and lawyers," she related.

Annexation, she thought, would disturb the cultural atmosphere of the Point.

"We wish to preserve it," she concluded.

Miss Glenn said, "I don't owe Carmel anything. Carmel owes me a lot."

When she came here there were restrictions against liquor in Carmel which pleased her. Now these have been removed.

Miss Glenn stated that no one had approached her to find out her attitude towards annexation. The movement towards it was "subterranean," she implied.

Mr. Seymour confined his remarks to proving that Carmel Point had adequate fire protection from the Carmel Hill station of the State Department of Forestry. He added that any person wishing to examine the anti-annexation committee's questionnaire file was free to do so.

Mr. Walsh stated that he was unable to reconcile facts with statements of the city council in respect to annexation.

Mr. Wheelchel commented on economic factors. The city would receive attractive revenue from the Point where the average value of structures was high, but adding this area to the city would mean that city services would be spread thinner and not materially, therefore, benefit either the Point or the city.

He thought Point residents would give more than they would receive from annexation.

In a short rebuttal, Mr. Moller stated that he did not think Tuesday's meeting gave a true picture of what Carmel Point residents want.

"The only solution is to go through with annexation procedures and have an election," he urged.

Two other speakers, Mrs. Robert McGinnis and Miss Marion H. Clark, respectively pointed out incidents where fire and police protection had not been adequate on the Point.

Highlands Calm Almost Restored By Path Motion

Residents of Carmel Highlands do not enjoy unalloyed peace and quiet was apparent last night at a meeting of the Carmel Highlands Association.

Matters such as shooting on a private pistol range — but never before 11 a.m.; dogs that bite; disagreements over zoning; and being prevented from using a public path — which is also a private right of way—to Yankee Point Beach; and who shall assume the responsibility of policing the path and be made guardians of a lock and possibly 300 keys were matters that made for a "hot" time in the community's fire house.

However, not everyone was ruffled, some ladies in the audience, unperturbed, darned socks as they listened, others knitted and crocheted.

The one matter on which all were unanimous was the election of officers for the coming year. These are Drummond, Hoffman, chairman; Mrs. Laidlaw Williams, vice chairman; Mrs. Hamilton Jeffers, secretary; Mrs. John Schroder, corresponding secretary.

The outgoing chairman, William Hazell, finally subdued the indignation, also the antagonism, of residents, fire house commissioners and Dr. James Miller, owner of land on both sides of the beach path, by gaining a favorable vote on the preparation of a motion to protect the easement over the Miller property, also re-establish the community's beach for private use by all Highland property owners.

A gate will be provided at the top of the path and guardians for the keys to it designated, if the motion presented at the next association meeting by Francis Heisler passes.

"I don't want to be a policeman," Dr. Miller declared.

A Christmas letter to all members of the association will ask them to control their dogs, if they have any, and thus forestall consideration of a leash law. The letter will also ask for contributions for the volunteer fire brigade and the association's legal fund, which, it appeared last night, had been depleted by paying for counsel on the path problem.

Mr. Hazell thanked the officers who had served with him this year, then the meeting was adjourned for coffee, cookies and conversation. Mrs. Cynthia Williams presided at the coffee urn.

Zoning and pistol shooting will be matters for Mr. Hoffman to worry about from now on.

Home From The Snow

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Goodrich have returned from what unexpectedly turned out to be a week in the snow. Driving to Lake Tahoe, the Goodriches found themselves in a beautiful whirl of snow this side of Placerville and used tire chains from there on.

"A perfect way to get into the Christmas spirit," they reported.

"WOODMAN, SPARE THAT TREE"

That was the challenge the owner gave to the architect in designing a house on a 40 x 120 ft. lot on Dolores which was graced by a magnificent oak tree cluster right where the house would ordinarily be planted. The architect accepted the challenge, and the results, we think you will agree, are delightful, in a 3 bedroom contemporary with a walled front courtyard with a Spanish flavor. In that wonderful location—walking distance to town and the beach—we'd love to show you what can happen with an oak tree cluster in the hands of an imaginative architect and a quality builder. Price $52,500.

CUTE LITTLE BUG OF A HOUSE

Located on a 60 x 100 ft. lot southeast of Ocean Avenue in the oak trees. It's an old house, remodeled with originality and taste, for an ideal weekend or a great little house for a working girl or career man. As the price is only $18,000, and we can take a very low down payment, you should take a look. (Yes, there's a fireplace, a pretty swedish one on a raised brick hearth.)

JUST LISTED A 2 STORY MEDITERRANEAN

in a lovely area of Carmel Woods. The rooms are spacious and light, 2100 square feet in all, which includes a really large master bedroom, a dignified 16 ft. dining room, and hardwood floors throughout. On a large street-to-street lot, this is a handsome home for only $42,500.

Auctions And Dunes Present Problems To Carmel Planners

Also at their December meeting, commissioners will consider in-lieu amendments to the interim ordinance requiring off-street, on-site parking for employees and proprietors of all new business buildings, also recommend extension of this ordinance for one year to permit time for the adoption of permanent controls for business district parking.

Referred to the commission's land use committee, for study and report, were a request from W. E. Candy for a variance to reduce a front setback on property at Eighth and Scenic; also a use permit for Lawrence Kinnaird to establish a nonconforming building site on Lopez between Second and Fourth. These matters will be acted upon on December 16.

Signs and standard exterior gas lights were approved for Security National Bank. Other signs approved were for The 3 Rings, and Beaux Arts. The first is on San Carlos above Fifth, the other at Ocean and Monte Verde.

Planning Director Floyd Adams told commissioners that property in the sand dunes north of Ocean Avenue which belonged to the late Elizabeth McClung White is for sale. The commission has placed the undeveloped dune area, comprising three-fourths of an acre, on their list of desirable acquisitions for public lands to be acquired by the city.

Although dwellings exist on part of the property, none of it has been subdivided. It is priced in the vicinity of a quarter of a million dollars.

Mr. Adams asked the commission to consider removing from its abeyance calendar considerations of an ordinance embodying subdivision regulations for properties not already subdivided within the city limits.

He suggested that the 30,000 square feet of dune land be designated for subdivision greater than 40 by 100 feet lots.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

OPEN HOUSE TONIGHT

The Carmel Volunteer Fire Department is inviting all citizens to come and see the new doors at the firehouse tonight between 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock. Fire Chief Robert Smith says coffee and doughnuts will be served at the open house party.

Editor's Column . . .

But during the past five years, two persons of extraordinary vision, Fred Rider and Nick Zanides, have been working towards the establishment of a classic repertory theatre for the performance of drama festivals in confederation with the famous repertory companies in Minneapolis; Stratford, Canada; and Chester, England.

Headed by Gordon Hall, directors of the festival theatre group, all persons with vision, have incorporated and hope to raise $2.9 million for the organization including construction of a 1,500-seat open-stage theatre . . . but not in Carmel.

This is sad considering how other persons of vision have recognized the potentialities of Carmel and made it famous as the artistic center of the Peninsula, also the most uniquely beautiful community in the area. These persons, too, have proved that visions can become realities.

So for the great drama vision, conceived in Carmel, to come to fruition elsewhere than in the city's cultural center, is a pity.

Future plans for the cultural center include building a 1,500-seat auditorium and a 500-car parking facility, all in a park-like setting.

Surely, some reconciliation of these plans with those of the festival theatre group can be effected.

Carmel already has world renown because visions have been turned into realities.

Maybe a festival theatre at the cultural center will become another such reality . . . and not a lost dream.

Persons with vision are still in our midst. —M.L.

Two Banquets Honor CHS Football Teams

As sponsors of two banquets honoring Carmel High School Padres, members of the "Padre Boosters" (Carmel High Parents Club) are having a busy time this week.

The JV banquet, held Tuesday night at La Playa Hotel, was under the direction of Lloyd Cunningham, Tor Spindler, Wes Ball and Roy Meadows, with Tom August as master of ceremonies. Chris Pappas, assistant football coach at Monterey Peninsula College, was guest speaker.

Heading the award winners was JV quarterback, Craig Cunningham, who was presented with the Luis Wolter Perpetual Award for leadership, cooperation and scholastic ability.

Dave Erickson was named the most inspirational player; Steve Hall, most valuable team member; Buck Bouquet, most aggressive lineman, and Packy Porter, the most improved player.

All members of the JV team were introduced to the mothers and fathers attending the banquet by Coaches Wes McWilliams and Al Kolb.

The Varsity Team banquet is scheduled for tonight at La Playa, spearheaded by Jim Lang, Charlie Eyster and Wally Marvin. Guest speaker will be Luke Phillips, head MPC football coach.

This is the first year that Padre Booster mothers, who have for years faithfully attended games, also sympathized with wearied players after the fray, have been invited to the banquet. They added much to the "charm" of Tuesday's celebration, and a goodly number are expected tonight.

ACCIDENT CALL

The Carmel Volunteer Fire Department answered an emergency ambulance call at 8:10 a.m. this morning when Dan Burkleo, 20, of Pacific Grove, working on the construction of a new house on Lower Trail, let his skill-saw slip, and cut his right thigh. The ambulance corps administered first aid and rushed the patient to Community Hospital where he underwent major surgery. Mr. Burkleo is now under intensive care.

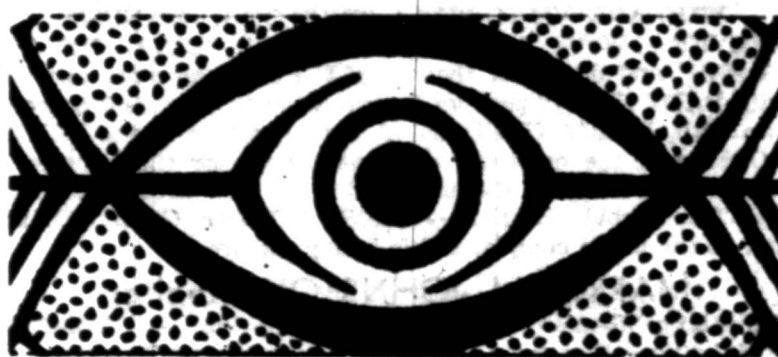

The Carmel ambulance crew answered seven accident calls during the past week.
